You do not need to tear down your structures Saturday night if you prefer not to. There is security on duty, however, leaving your property overnight is at your own discretion and your own risk. Alameda is coastal and can be chilly in the mornings. Don't forget your jacket and appropriate weights for your tents.

LAST MINUTE CANCELLATIONS/EMERGENCIES:

If you are unable to make it to the show, please do us the courtesy of a phone call to keep you in good stead with Eckerstrom Productions. For people who are calling Friday or Saturday morning (we will be onsite from 3 a.m. on), please call the show site cell phone at 415-205-1405. This number may also be used in case of an emergency. Cancellations prior to Friday can still be phoned into the main office at 530-347-8040.

Tips:

- Please do not expect us to come by your booth to check in with each of you. We do circulate the event throughout the weekend several dozen times, checking in with vendors randomly, on the overall well being of the event and vendors, but we don't stop by every booth as it is impractical to do so.
- We do try and send staff or volunteers around to give potty breaks, but it is not always possible to send them at the times you may need them, so if you have a real need, or a serious concern during an event, please call the show phone.
- We are often out of the office several days before and after a show. Many of these events take several days to mark, prep and cleanup, so please keep that in mind if you are trying to reach us in the office during one of these times.
- There are copies of this packet on our website should you lose or forget this one.

That's all for now. Thanks for your cooperation, and good luck!
